Furniture that Fits... Quite Literally

OBJECTIVE

The architect created individually sized private offices demanding precisely fitted furniture from wall-to-wall. And as the client wanted to keep the site lines low, the majority of spaces would not have hutches. Three H was able to fit each individual space with tailored suites using a unique mix of undersurface storage components.

SCOPE

6 Executive Suites
19 Management Office (no hutches)
Cafeteria and Training Tables

FINISHES AND DETAILS

"Three H created the look and functionality that we had hoped for. The solid wood Bullnose edge is just one of the many added details that makes our furniture even more attractive. Our office is now out-fitted in style, with our staff feeling comfortable and energized by their new work spaces."
